CAMPAIGN TO AID RED CROSS IN ALEXANDRIA

Several Days to be Spent in Effort to Secure Members and Contributions for the Work in Conformity with Nation-Wide Movement Now in Progress.

Alexandria is preparing to do its part in the nation-wide movement now under way for aiding and contributing to the noble work of the Red Cross, in providing for the care of the sick and wounded soldiers of our own country as well as those of our allies.

Those who have the work in charge at the local branch of the Red Cross are preparing for an active and vigorous membership campaign which will begin tomorrow and continue for several days.

A general headquarters will be opened, with sub-stations at Gibson's and Warfield's drug stores, postoffice building, Alexandria National, First National and Burke & Herbert's banks, where members of the local branch will be on hand to urge the co-operation and assistance of everyone in the community to join and identify themselves with this great work. It is earnestly hope that there will be a generous response on the part of the people. Remember, the campaign opens tomorrow.

GERMANS' CIVIL STRIKE

Refusing to Return to Factories, Munition Workers May be Called to Colors.

A pall of silence has fallen over the central empires, serving to accentuate the reports of grave internal troubles. In spite of the assertions of the German press that the great Berlin strike, which involved at least 300,000 workers, it over, there is evidence that the agitation is continuing. The Berlin Tageblatt admits that the members of two of the munition workers' unions have refused to return to work, and says that those who persist in their refusal will be called to the colors.

The meager light which sifts through the veil of the German censorship disappears entirely in the case of Austria. Following persistent reports that Count Tisza, Premier of Hungary, and foremost exponent in the dual monarchy of the German idea, has resigned, all information as to conditions in Vienna or Budapest ceased. The one thing that appears certain is that the socialists and radicals in both empires have recently drawn much closer together, and that inflammatory language is being used with an impunity inconceivable in the earlier days of the war.

In the meantime, the revolutionary spirit, which is rampant throughout Europe, has given a sensational demonstration in Sweden. The food situation is ostensibly the cause of the remarkable events in Stockholm, where a great multitude of workers tried to force their way into the Parliament Building. The fact that there were unrebuked shouts for a republic and that the ominous word "revolution" was freely used, gives another aspect to the affair. The royal castle is under guard, and more serious outbreaks are predicted for May 1.

While the revolutionists gather headway and audacity in the monarchical kingdoms of Europe, the armies of the British and French democracies are massing their guns and shells for another tremendous thrust against the German lines in France. There is nothing definite to indicate where the blow will fall, but the general opinion in the allied capitals is that General Haig is about to make another great effort to smash his way through to Cambrai and Douai.

Pending these developments, public interest has been keenly aroused by the cryptic words of Lord Curzon, member of the British war council, "Keep your eye on Mesopotamia".

The uninterrupted successes of the British forces in the Valley of the Tigris, who are now some eighty miles north of Bagdad, nave given rise to the hope that Lord Curzon's words are a prediction of some overwhelming blow against the shattered forces of the Sultan. The main Turkish forces are at present practically surrounded by the British and Russian armies, and their road of retreat lies across an almost impassable desert.

ENCOUNTER IN SANCTUM

Captain Charles McCarthy Has One Round With S. T. Clover, of Richmond Journal.

Official Richmond was stirred to lively interest yesterday over a spirited encounter between Captain Carlton McCarthy, of the Administrative Board, and S. T. Clover, editor and publisher of the Evening Journal, in the latter's office, Broad and Fourth streets.

The account given by Captain McCarthy and that published in the Journal differ in details.

Captain McCarthy said: "I called upon the editor of the Journal for vindication for an editorial which appeared in Saturday's Journal. I asked him whether he wrote the offensive editorial; he admitted it, and I then told him that it was nothing but a pack of lies and that he was a liar. He answered, "Is that so?" and my reply was a blow to the jaw. The newspaper man went to the floor and I picked up a chair, when a dozen men rushed into the room and overpowered me."

The following account, which Captain McCarthy characterized as untrue, was published by the Journal.

"Honoring the Evening Journal editorial rooms with a call this morning, Commissioner McCarthy, of the Administrative Board, asked to be introduced to the editor. His wish was gratified. He was anxious to know who wrote the editorial in last Saturday's paper protesting against the inconsistency of spending thousands of dollars on a municipal paper when the taxpayers have burdens more than enough.

"When the editor passed over the information, the commissioner used ugly words and attempted to strike the astonished newspaper man. When Mr. McCarthy woke up after having been run from the front of the building to the rear by the editor, who was propelling him in the good, old-fashioned manner, the caller found himself descending the editorial stairs with more rapidity than grace.

"Upon reaching the sidewalk he voiced his appreciation of his reception by declaring his intention of killing the editor. This is not the open season for editors. It is Germans that the country has listed, and the editor of the Evening Journal is surprised to find so astute a public official as the commissioner falling into such error. Should Mr. McCarthy again honor the sanctum, perhaps, the reception arrangements will be less hurried. One likes to do justice to distinguished callers."

MARSHALL CASE ENDED.

Supreme Court Holds House Had No Authority in Case.

The House of Representatives which went out of office March 4, last, the Supreme Court decided yesterday did not have authority to punish United States Attorney H. Snowden Marshall of New York, for alleged contempt. Mr. Marshall is exempt from further proceedings.

The lower court, it was held by Chief Justice White, erred in refusing to give Mr. Marshall a discharge by habeas corpus. The Supreme Court, therefore, ordered his discharge.

Mr. Marshall was charged with contempt because of a letter he wrote criticizing the conduct of a House sub-committee which investigated impeachment charges brought against him by former Representative Buchanan, of Illinois, whom Mr. Marshall had indicted for conspiracy to restrain commerce. The impeachment charges collapsed,

"No express power to punish for contempt was delegated to the House in the Constitution," said Chief Justice White, in his decision,. "It must be implied, if at all, as necessary to execute powers given. To constitute an act of this kind it must be an act of physical destruction to the right of the House to carry on its proceedings".

Nothing in Mr. Marshall's conduct, he held, directly came within the necessary jurisdiction of the House to punish and his conduct did not interfere with any House proceedings.

If deemed to apply to Mr. Marshall's conduct, the Chief Justice said, a similar rule would apply to criticisms of private persons and "strike a knife at the very roots of the whole system of representative government."

To hold that the House might punish an individdal for mere criticism of its members might endanger important constitutional privileges of the public.

HAMBURG ALSO AFFECTED

Strike Movement About Same as in Berlin, Reports Returning American.

Copenhagen, April 24—An American who has just arrived here from Hamburg, says that Hamburg last week was affected by the same strike movement as Berlin. A big demonstration led to lavish promises by the military and even to the suspension of the card system for the day, during which it was possible to buy bread and, as far as available, potatoes. Now it is almost impossible, according to this American, to obtain these necessaries even on cards.

This American saw Albert Ballin, director-general of the Hamburg-American Steamship Company, who has close relations with the German authorities, and confirms the report that Herr Ballin entertains an optimistic view of the possibility of an early peace.

SNOWSLIDES KILL SWISS

Cattle and Buildings Buried and Alpine Railways Blocked.

Berne, April 24.—Scores of persons have perished and a large number of cattle and many buildings have been buried under unprecedented avalanches throughout southern Switzerland within a few days.

The St. Gotthard and Simplon railway lines to Italy have been repeatedly blocked, and repair work has been frequently stopped by fresh avalanches, due to the recent bad weather and heavy snows. Anxiety is felt that the avalanches may be followed by devastating floods when the thaw sets in.

Dear father, we tried so hard to save you,
But our tears and prayers were all in vain;
For happy Angels came and bore you
From this world of toil and pain.

CAPTURE OF SUBMARINE

Prussian Undersea Boat Said to Have Been Taken in Net Near Newport News.

New York, April 24.—The Herald, in a late edition, prints the following from Newport News, Va.:

A Prussian submarine, the U-36, was caught in a net near Newport News, Va., by American naval forces, according to a circumstantial report in circulation here today, and she is either now on the way to the New York navy yard at Brooklyn or has arrived there.

The submarine is said to have been captured by the crew of one of the largest American battleships. Her bow became entangled in the net set to protect naval waters, and before she could back away the elevating planes became involved and she could not free herself.

Immediately the warning was sounded and the officers and crew of the Prussian undersea craft surrendered.

The submarine was not seriously damaged, and was placed in charge of competent men, and with a convoy or tow started for New York harbor.

It is not known what disposition was made of the captured crew. They probably have been sent to an interior fortification under secret guard.

It is understood that the captured U-boat will arrive at the New York navy yard tomorrow, if she is not already there. It was not known what speed she could make up the coast.

Because of the extensive machine shop at the New York yard and because of the crowded condition of the shops at Norfolk it was decided to send the prize north for repairs. It is probable that the U-36 soon will be added to the American naval forces.

The story of the capture of the U-36 came out here last night, when officers of a great battleship came ashore. What they said confirmed or rather explained a great commotion in Hampton Road a few days ago. No one ashore was able to explain what was happening, but there was much excitement and strict secrecy kept.

The submarine apparently had entered the roads hoping to find important units of the American fleet That she did not get far indicates that the harbor is horoughly protected.

NEW RAILROAD ASSURED

Bridge for Washington and Newport News Line Approved by U. S. Engineers Corps.

Plans for the construction of a bridge over the Potomac river by the Washington and Newport News Short Line, the proposed new railroad, have been approved by Col. Clement A. F. Flagler, of the United States Engineer Corps, to whom they were referred for adjustment by Secretary of War Baker. Final approval by Secretary Baker is expected within a few days.

Approval of the Potomac bridge plans removes the last obstacle in the way of building the new railroad between Washington and Newport News and Norfolk. The new railway company has leased the Shepherd's Branch of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, opposite Alexandria, running from the District of Columbia and Prince George's county line to the main Baltimore and Ohio tracks, so that it can enter Washington and have a direct connection for Baltimore and the East for its passenger and freight trains.

For three months the army engineers and officials of the Washington and Newport News Short Line have been working together for the purpose of reaching a common agreement on plans for the Potomac river bridge, which will connect Charles county, Md., and King county, Va., a short distance south of Indian Head, Md. Steamboat interests wanted a bridge high enough to clear their boats on the Potomac river. The railroad officials said such a structure was out of the question on account of its cost. Finally an agreement was reached by which a bridge, which will clear the river by 20 feet so that small power boats can pass under it and which will have the Bascule lift for the passage of large steamers, will be constructed. Permits for bridges over the York river above Yorktown and the Rappahannock river at Laytons also will be issued with the permit for the Potomac river span: There is no objection to bridging the York and Rappahannock rivers from Virginia interests.

Norfolk will be reached by a big viaduct over James river from Newport News to Sewall's Point. This viaduct will be patterned after the famous Florida East Coast Railroad viaduct to Key West and will have several draws for the passage of ships. The new railroad will give Indian Head a railroad outlet. It also will tap Hampton Roads and the York river.

Eighty per cent. of the right of way has been acquired through Maryland and Virginia. The new railroad is headed by Frank Gannon, former president of the Norfolk and Southern Railway, and is said to have ample capital for its construction.

CLUBS CURTAIL FOOD.

Desire to Set an Example in Careful Living.

New York, April 24.—Food curtailment by a number of leading New York clubs has been put into effect, "based on the idea that it may become one of many examples of careful living in order that food supplies may be utilized to the greatest extent," according to a joint announcement issued here yesterday.

The clubs named are the Knickerbocker, University, Union, Metropolitan, Brook, Racquet and Tennis and the New York Yacht Clubs.

The step was taken, the announcement said, in view of the imperative necessity of minimizing waste, and in a spirit of co-operation with the Government.

BOMBING OF BRIDGES FEARED.

Crossing Them, Passengers Must Keep Off Rear Platforms.

Chicago, April 24. — Passengers may no longer ride on railroad car platforms while crossing bridges. This rule was put into effect by railroads all over the country yesterday and it applies to the rear platform of observation cars as well as to other coaches.

The chief reason for the rule is that the platforms offer a vantage ground for bomb throwing.

THE GERMAN AWAKENING

As is observed by a cotemporary, the outside world can gain only an inkling of internal conditions in Germany from such reports as the German newspapers are permitted to publish of industrial and political unrest in that country. The extent of the strikes and attendant disturbances that have taken place in Berlin and other large cities can only be guessed at, as obviously the censorship would require the minimization of such occurrences. Enough has leaked out, however, to demonstrate that the underfed laborers in German establishments, including even some of the great munitions plants, have engaged in at least sporadic revolts, and that political dissatisfaction is rife and growing.

It must be remembered that the precariousness of the military situation has nothing to do with this seething of the German cauldron. The German people are being assiduously fed on lies as to the real position of their country in the great war. It has been officially stated to them that their armies are achieving a great success on the western front, and the Kaiser has even congratulated his noble son on his remarkable prowess in beating the French. A most optimistic picture is drawn for them of the results of the naval raid on Dover, in which the Germans lost two torpedo boat destroyers without even crippling a British ship, and the people are told by the German Admiralty that the German forces sunk one British ship with a torpedo, probably sunk another, and seriously damaged several more by artillery fire, Every defeat is converted into a glorious victory for home consumption.

If the German workmen are unruly when they suppose their battles are being won by land and sea, what will be their attitude when the authorities are at last forced to tell them the unpleasant truth about the military situation? What will be their response when they learn that their heaviest sacrifices made in behalf of selfish rulers have been made in vain?

There will be an awakening in Germany when the German people shall at last get hold of the data upon which to make a true calculation of the profits and losses of the enterprise into which they were driven by the pride and lust of those to whom they committed for safekeeping their lives, their fortunes and their honor.

"GERMANIA AT PEACE."

William H. Tweed once said to a newspaper man: "I don't care what you say about me in your editorial columns. But those d—d pictures, I earnestly protest against them."

We have for some time believed that by the time the United States gets good and ready to make war on Germany, our country will be called upon to participate in the rites of sepulture. It is useless for the Teutons to attempt to conceal facts any longer—the haughty nation is almost at its ne plus ultra.

Berlin is now thronged with Turkish troops en route to the western front. Despite the bolstering up of the western front revealed as necessary by the drawing in of Turkish forces, the Berlin public is still being fed on "victory" stories by the Berlin newspapers and the German staff.

But to return to the funeral, which seems to be inevitable. The Washington Herald this morning contains a picture which is suggestive. It is entitled "Germania at Peace." The Teuton goddess is lying in a coffin with the crown of the Hohenzollerns upon her breast. The pallbearers are the allies.

Uncle Sam is represented with his shoulder at the foot of the coffin. Under the picture is the following extract from a speech by Bethmann-Hollweg:

"Germany after the war will be at peace, and with folded arms will be borne upon the shoulders of her present enmies."

MODERN GHOULS.

"It's bad enough to steal from the living, much less from the dead," declared Police Justice Crutchfield in Richmond yesterday when Harry Du Val, thirty years old, faced him on the charge of stealing flowers from graves in Hollywood cemetery. "I must go out there one of these days and I don't want anybody stealing even grass from my grave."

Du Val was sentenced to four months at hard labor on the roads. He said that he took the flowers to replant them in his frontyard.

Du Val was carrying pansies in his shirt bosom and other flowers in his arms when arrested. It developed in court that he was converted at a tent revival meeting a year or so ago and has since been active in the Bible class of a church in Richmond.

The action of Justice Crutchfield will be heartily affirmed not only in Richmond, but throughout the state. During the past quarter of a century or more complaints have been made to the authorities of Alexandria of vandalism in our grave yards. Not only have flowers been stolen, but in one instance many years ago a tombstone was missing from a lot. It was later found that it was being utilized as a front step at a dwelling half a mile away.

OBNOXIOUS STATUE.

Senator Owen, of Oklahoma, said recently in the United States Senate: Frederick the Great is now the ideal of the Prussian military autocracy, Only a year or two ago the United States was presented a statue of Frederick the Great, and it is standing before our War College now. My own opinion is that the statue of Frederick the Great ought to be gently and quietly removed from its spot and dropped in some quiet place in the Potomac River, where it will not longer serve to give dignity and honor to this cruel and unscrupulous prince. The imperial German government presented us with its ideal in the statue of Frederick the embodiment of war and rapacity and broken treaties. France presented us with the French ideal, Bartholdi's wonderful conception, standing guard at the entrance to our greatest port —New York— where all the world may see "Liberty enlightening the world." God bless France and speed her prohecy.

While we would not go as far as Senator Owen and throw the statue into the Potomac river, we think this effigy of a despot, who had a conscience like a flint, should be veiled at this time. It is an insult to our free institutions to have the statue of a heartless tyrant standing in close proximity to our War College.

ENTHUSES RUSSIANS.

Washington is Assured That Provisional Government Has No Thought of Making Peace.

Further encouraging reports from Russia came yesterday in a dispatch to the State Department, telling of the effect of President Wilson's war address, and declaring that Russia, under the new provisional Government was no more likely to abandon the war without achieving her object than was the United States.

Recalling that one of the impelling causes for the overthrow of the impeial regime was the belief that it was planning a separate peace, the dispatch said the revolution would expedite the defeat of Germany and the establishment of a general peace.

Prompt recognition accorded the new Government by the United States gave encouragement and help to the Council of Ministers and their supporters, the department was informed, while President Wilson's allusion to the Russian revolution in his address to Congress made a deep, lasting impression on the people. The address has been translated, together with other of the President's utterances concerning American participation, which are being given wide circulation in a pamphlet freely distributed.

No people, according to the report, so circumstanced, ever had made greater sacrifices for freedom than the Russians, and they fully realize that a separate peace would jeopardize all they have gained. The American form of government has been taken as the model of the Russian people, and the participation of the United States has infused in them a confident spirit and imbued them with a firm determination.

If Americans are incensed at the intrigues and underhanded machinations of Germany in their midst and on their borders, the message declares, the Russians have fourfold cause for like resentment, and will make any sacrifice rather than conclude a separate peace.

A wedding in which Alexandrians are interested will take place tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in St. Mark's Church, Washington, when Miss Frances Jacquelin Washington, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Washington, will be married to Mr. Owen Batchelder Lewis, of Philadelphia.

March Figures Exceeded Only Once Imports Make Record.

Despite the German submarine campaign American exports in March reached a value of $551,278,000, which has been exceeded only once, last January, the best month in the country's history. Imports of $270,484,000 set a new American record.

Foreign and Domestic Commerce Bureau statistics announced today show the country's foreign trade increased in March $156,000,000 over February totals.

Exports for the nine months ended with March were valued at $4,634,900,000 against $2,995,500,000 for the corresponding period in 1916 and $1,931,100,000 in 1915. Imports for nine months ended with March were valued at $1,818,320,000, at $1,504,663,000 in 1916 and at $1,213,614,000 in 1915.

Import records show that the proportionate amount of goods entering free of duty has been increasing steadily.

NORWAY DEPENDS ON U. S.

If Exports Are Forbidden, Country Faces Starvation.

Christiana, Norway, April 24.—Newspaper reports that America would cease exports to neutrals have caused much anxiety here. Norway is entirely dependent upon America for grain, sugar, salt pork and other provisions, petroleum and certain raw materials. The export of these articles from Norway is forbidden, as the country is in need of them.

The country's supply of grain including the coming crops is sufficient until September if none is exported. The embargo on American oil would hit Norway especially hard as the fishing fleet uses oil-driven motors.

Unless the United States permits exports to Norway under special licenses forbidding re-exports from this country all of Norway will soon be on the verge of starvation.

The State Department made public the statement yesterday announcing that the Turkish government had declared itself as an ally of Germany, and severed diplomatic relations with the United States.

"Number Please"

It is not good practice, in telephoning, to call by name instead of by number, because it slows up the service.

Subscribers' lines are indicated on the switchboard by number only and when subscribers insist in calling by name they make it necessary for the operator to try to memorize all the names and numbers or look up numbers in the telephone directory at the time calls are made.

The telephone directory is issued several times a year and is kept up-to-date and remarkably accurate. Subscribers are asked to consult it before making calls. When a subscriber's number cannot be located, ask "Information."

"That Electric Range IS A Success!"

People who have been skeptical of the electric range need only see and smell the savory dishes cooked on the NEUCO to become instantly converted.

Gas, coal and other obsolete methods of cooking can not begin to impart to foods the fine rich flavor that you get with the NEUCO.

The NEUCO also means a sanitary kitchen. No greasy pots. No fumes and smoke.

And it means a cool kitchen in summer as the construction of the NEUCO confines the heat to the range.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

The Maandag Ochtenblad, of Amsterdam, learns that both of the German destroyers which were sunk in the battle off Dover sailed from Zeebrugge, and were of the newest type, with four funnels apiece. Two other destroyers were heavily damaged and numerous wounded sailors were brought to Bruges on Saturday. A squadron of eight vessels is said to have left Zeebrugge about 7 o'clock on Friday night. The greatest activity was apparent about the Belgian base yesterday, and today searchlights were being worked vigorously and rockets were going up at frequent intervals.

In a pistol battle early yesterday at the head of the McIntosh branch of Catskin Creek, Ky., two men were killed and four others wounded, two of them seriously. John B. Feltner, brother of "Mose" Feltner, killed at Hazard last fall by a deputy United States marshal, was one of the victims. Roscoe Brewer also was slain. Riley and Monroe Melton, brothers, received serious wounds. Russell Wootin, deputy sheriff, was wounded slightly, as was a fourth man, whose identity the officers have not determined. Feltner was a farmer 50 years old. He had accompanied the deputy sheriff to Brewer's home to assist in arresting Brewer, who was under indictment and had forfeited bond supplied by Feltner. The Meltons were on the same mission.

A special train of three coaches, crowded with 170 negroes, recruited from Danville and neighboring counties was detained indefinitely by the police yesterday afternoon just as orders were given for the journey to New York to begin. On a warrant sworn out by the Commonwealth's Attorney J. H. Suderley and W. W. Rider, representatives of Northern brick yards, were arrested, charged with violating the city and State labor laws. They retained counsel and put up bond of $350 for their appearance in court today.

Russia stands steadfast in the midst of German intrigues, and will not even think of concluding a separate peace, according to a cablegram to the State Department forwarded by Ambassador Francis at Petrograd late yesterday. The message declares that Russia is no more ready to quit the war without achieving her objects than is the United States. The statement, given to Mr. Francis by the Russian regime told of Russia's appreciation of the recent American note, which expressed the hope that "internal concord" would be preserved to the end that Russia should come out victorious over Germany. Furthermore, the statement expressed "resentment" at Germany's plotting, and said unmistakably that there will be no separate peace.

After his victories over the de facto government troops, commanded by Gen. Francisco Murguia, commander of the division of the north, Francisco Villa has opened negotiations with Von Eckhardt, the German Minister at Mexico City, to co-operate with the Germans in Mexico in war against the United States. This information was received yesterday by State Department agents from sources in Mexico. According to these reports Villa is anxious for financial assistance to join the Germans and fly the imperial standard. The bandit leader commands about 3,500 men.

"LORD ONLY KNOWS HOW MUCH I SPENT"

Has Been Paying Out Money for Past Five Years, Declares Washington Man.

"Honestly, if I hadn't gotten hold of this medicine, Dreco, I don't believe I could have kept up with my work," said J. R. Herbert, who is employed in the Government Bureau of Engraving and Printing in Washington. "Yes, sir, it is a fact. I feel like I should tell every one what it has done for me. My stomach was all out of shape and I had been gradually going down hill. I had nervous indigestion, gas formed and awful pains would come directly after eating. I couldn't sleep much and would rise of mornings all worn out and not fit for work. I didn't have any appetite and a cup of coffee was about all I'd take for breakfast. I was all the time constipated and it wasn't long before my kidneys began to trouble me, and I would have severe pains in my back and loins. Lord only knows how much money I spent on medicine and doctors, but none did any good. My wife persuaded me to try Dreco, as it was helping so many people we know, and I'm now glad she did, for I am better than I have been in years. I have taken two bottles and I get up of mornings feeling good and eat a hearty breakfast. Nothing seems to disagree with me now. No more pains, gas or distressed feeling. Constipation disappeared and kidneys in good shape. I forgot now that I have a stomach, as it never bothers me.

The great root and herb medicine that did so much for Mr. Herbert is now sold and recommended by E. L. Allen and Co., Alexandria.

NOTICE TO ALL PERSONS SELLING, EXCHANGING OR DELIVERING MILK IN THE CITY OF ALEXANDRIA, VIRGINIA.

Notice is hereby given that the annual meeting of the local Board of Health will be held on Friday, April 27, 1917 for the purpose of passing upon applications for dairy and milk certificates as required by the City health laws; attention is particularly directed to Section 23 of the City health laws making it unlawful for any person by himself or his agent, to sell, or deliver any milk within the limits of the City of Alexandria, without first obtaining a license from the Commissioner of Revenue. All persons selling, exchanging or delivering milk in the City of Alexandria are hereby notified to make application to the Board of Health for said certificates on or before the 27th day of April, 1917.

Section No. 23 of an ordinance approved July 29, 1912, reads as follows:

"By pure, unadulterated, wholecome and unskimmed milk, is meant the natural product of healty cows, which has not been deprived of its cream, and to which no additional liquid or solid or preservative has been added, and which at the temperature of 60 degrees Fahrenheit, shall have the specific gravity of not less than 1029, and not less than 3 per cent of fat. Nothing in this section shall be constructed to prevent the sale of buttermilk, provided it is sold as such, and the purchaser be in every instance notified of its character.

It shall be unlawful for any person by himself or his agent to sell, exchange or deliver any milk within the limits of the City of Alexandria, without first obtaining a license from the Commissioner of Revenue for said city.

Such license shall be issued by the Commissioner of Revenue as other licenses are issued upon payment of the sum of one dollar to the Treasurer of the City of Alexandria, and the production of a certificate approved by the deputy health officer, to the effect that the applicant's dairy, stables and milch cows have been inspected by the deputy health officer or other person satisfactory to the board of health, acting in his stead, and found to be clean and in a sanitary and healthy condition and that the tuberculin test has been applied to said cows in accordance with the Virginia State regulations. It shall be the duty of the deputy health officer at least twice a year, to inspect the dairies, stables and milch cows of all persons sellings, exchanging or delivering milk in the City of Alexandria, and report the condition of the same to the board of health, and a copy of such report shall be kept in the office of the health officer and subject to public inspection.

Applications for said certificates may be made and granted at any time, but the board of health shall in addition to its other meetings meet once a year during the first part of the month of April for the purpose of receiving and passing upon said applications. And the board of health may at any time after thirty days' notice, revoke the license of any person selling milk within the City of Alexandria, if it shall appear that the dairy stables or milch cows of such persons are not up to the standard required by the provisions hereof."

"I Can Sell Almost Any Make of Tire Once"

—but this town is not big enough in which to do business on the ONE SALE ONLY basis.

I must sell tires again and again to the same people.

On this principle my business has grown because I sell a tire that cuts down upkeep to a fair and reasonable figure.

People ask how far will this tire run? I tell them we rarely see a Diamond that won't go five thousand miles. Yet Diamonds are PRICED on a basis of only three thousand five hundred miles.

There is no "velvet" in the price, but plenty of "velvet" in Diamond mileage.

We carry a complete line of sizes in stock and can fill your tire wants immediately. If you can't come, telephone.

ROOSEVELT'S IDEA.

Former President Said to be Obstacle in Path of Conscription

Despite all administration attempts to annihilate it, the Roosevelt division idea is holding its trench. It is the most formidable obstacle in the path of conscription today While the word was passed out semi-officially at the war department that there will be no Roosevelt division, betting now favors the idea that "T. R." will get into the trenches in France with a volunteer force weeks before the first American conscript division gets under shrapnel fire.

It is admitted that the President is strongly opposed to the Roosevelt division. Friends of the colonel insist that the Wilson opposition is predicated on the political possibilities likely to ensue "when Teddy comes marching home." Administration backers ridicule this idea and say that Roosevelt, who is on record as favoring selective conscription, is doing more to block conscription by his talk of a volunteer division than any other single factor. They admit that Roosevelt could probably smash all speed records in raising a division They say that the Roosevelt agitation is playing right into the hands of congressmen who prefer the volunteer system because of the chance it offers to play politics by awarding commissions. In house and senate there is strong support of the Roosevelt idea.

SOCIALISTS MAKE DEMANDS

Several Resolutions of Revolutionary Character Adopted at Secret Convention.

Bern, Switzerland, April 24.—The Hungarian Socialists have adopted resolutions at a secret convention demanding that the central powers make public their peace conditions, excluding all forcible annexations, according to the Tagwacht, the official organ of the Swis Social Democracy. The convention was the first to be held since, 1913, and several resolutions of a drastic and even revolutionary character were adopted.

The convention called upon the Hungarian government to abolish all restrictions on public gatherings, to restore the freedom of the press, and to furnish genuine proof of the honorableness and sincerity of its desire for peace. The resolutions declare that peace terms should provide for the obligatory reference of all disputes to an international tribunal, gradual disarmament of the nations, means for the free economic, national and cultural development of all peoples, and the removal of causes of friction between the nations and their governments.

Demands were also made that all states make public every international agreement, place foreign policies under the control of Parliament, and abolish secret diplomacy.

Great Britain's Foreign Secretary Spent Yesterday With American Executive.

The Right Hon. Arthur James Balfour, Great Britain's foreign secretary, and other members of that nation's war commission spent yesterday in exchanging with American executive officials those courtesies dictated by diplomatic etiquette. The important conferences designed to bring about the closest and most effective cooperation possible in the prosecution of the war against Germany will wait upon the arrival of the French commissions now en route to the United States.

One of the most important purposes of the commission already has been completed, except for minor details. At the conclusion of a conference yesterday between Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo and Lord Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England, Treasury officials said that Mr. McAdoo would announce within a few days a loan to Great Britain of a portion of the proceeds of the $3,000,000 worth of bonds authorized for an extension of credits to the allies.

John A. Lamb, widely known lawyer, son of former Representative John Lamb, of Richmond, died yesterday afternoon in a hospital from a pistol bullet wound behind his right ear, inflicted, the police state, with suicidal intent. He had been ill several weeks, but seemed to have recovered his health.
